MISSION STATEMENT & OVERALL GOALS OF THE MUSEUM OF LIFESTYLE & FASHION HISTORY (MLFH)

The Museum of Lifestyle & Fashion History (MLFH) is an international museum and its mission is to offer educational programs and history and retrospective anthropology exhibits showcasing cultures, people, places, fashion trends, clothes, architecture, furnishings, decorative arts, interior designs, locomotives and toys, and information about popular uses of artifacts by people/events of various periods of time. The goals of the MLFH are to collect and preserve objects and artifacts that relate to the Museum's mission; provide educational & cultural arts programs for children, families, the general public and the disadvantaged; and to enhance tourist attractions and the economy of the area.

HISTORY OF MLFH

The Museum of Lifestyle & Fashion History (MLFH) is a non-profit 501(c)3 history museum that was established in 1999. The inspiration for the MLFH was the phenomenally successful retrospective & popular culture exhibit "40 Years of the Barbie® Doll" in celebration of Women's History Month which was on display from March 1999 thru September 2000 in Delray Beach, Florida. More than 19,000 visitors from around the world attended this exhibit which made it the #1 attended exhibit in the history of Delray Beach and one of the most memorable museum exhibits in all of Palm Beach County. The Barbie® Doll exhibit was conceived, developed, organized and curated by Lori J. Durante who is the Executive Director/Chief Curator of the Museum of Lifestyle & Fashion History.

From early 2003 to September 2005, the MLFH was located in a rent-free 8,000 square feet facility in the former Pineapple Grove Shops Plaza located in the 300 Block of Pineapple Grove Way in Downtown Delray Beach, Florida. The space for MLFH was donated by AM Davis Mercantile who owned that plaza. However, that plaza was sold and then demolished for redevelopment along with the entire City block where it was located. As a result, the Museum had to move. While at that facility, the MLFH developed and presented exhibits about fashion history and popular culture, and also hosted traveling exhibits from the Smithsonian Institution. The MLFH is the only museum in Palm Beach County that is approved to host exhibitions from the Smithsonian. On the 4th Saturday of each month, year-round, at 11am the MLFH still conducts the Narrated Bus Tours of Historic Delray Beach. Some of the accolades for MLFH include being selected as Best New Museum in 2004 by the New Times Broward-Palm Beach Newspaper; Best Bets in Palm Beach County in 2006 & 2005 by the Gold Coast Edition of Guest Informant Magazine; and in 2006, the MLFH Narrated Bus Tours of Historic Delray Beach were selected as Unique Travel Gem by AAA Travel Home & Away Magazine of Mid-America. In June 2006 and May 2008, the MLFH Narrated Bus Tours of Historic Delray Beach were selected as Best Tour of the Town by The Palm Beacher & Gold Coast Magazines.

CURRENT AND FUTURE PLANS FOR MLFH

The Museum of Lifestyle & Fashion History (MLFH) now has building plans for a proposed 93,000 square feet museum facility for the purpose of presenting permanent and traveling exhibits and for a location for its hugely popular Narrated Bus Tours of Historic Delray Beach, Florida. The MLFH building plans contain spaces dedicated to different themes including separate galleries featuring the following: history of Jewish people in retailing; the fashion, accessories & furnishings of Iris Apfel; separate galleries about the history, culture, fashion, architecture, interior design of the Swedish, Italian, Spanish, French, Asian, African, Caribbean, and Latin as well as galleries highlighting historical aspects about various other cultures, people, places, designs, artifacts and time periods.

For the Love of LILLY exhibit has been organized and developed by the Museum of Lifestyle & Fashion History and curated by Lori J. Durante. Featuring more than 80 vintage Lilly Pulitzer clothes, accessories and original fabric, the exhibit is on display at the donated location for the Museum of Lifestyle & Fashion History at the Boynton Beach Mall in Boynton Beach, Florida. This multi-media exhibit provides a historical, social and educational context about the Lilly Pulitzer fashions and their appeal to the Preppy American. The Lilly Pulitzer boldly-colored clothes arrived on the fashion scene in 1959 and garnered an immediate following of well-bred socialites and old-money. Some items in the exhibit include original Lilly-Shift dresses, Lilly orange juice containers, Lilly cocktail napkins and trays; and Lilly men's golf shirts. The exhibit also includes a display of original Lilly fabrics that were designed at the former Key West Hand Print Fabrics (KWHPF) located in Key West, Florida. KWHPF had a team of artists who worked with Lilly Pulitzer Rousseau to create the vivid prints and designs of animals and flowers that became the iconic-look of the brand. Group tours and school field trips are also available for the exhibit.

The exhibit display is anthropological in that it highlights the following themes:

1. Family Heritage of Lilly Pulitzer Rousseau
2. The Orange Juice Stain Inspiration
3. Key West Hand Print Fabrics
4. Lilly evolves to include a Children's, Men's, and Junior's line
5. Lilly's appeal to the Preppy American

The following are some of the collectors who have provided vintage Lilly Pulitzer designs for the exhibit:
